Conservation Geography

Week 11 Assignment Solutions (2026)

1 “the ability to produce a good using fewer inputs than another producer” is

(a) comparative advantage

(b) absolute advantage

(c) production advantage

(d) resource advantage

2 Which of these is / are example(s) of mitigation measures to mitigate impacts of linear infrastructure on wildlife?

(a) bridge underpasses

(b) box culverts

(c) pipe culverts

(d) all of these

3 Which mode of connection is described as requiring more money and technology to construct than roads?

(a) Shipping lines

(b) Railways

(c) Inland waterways

(d) Footpaths

4 Which of these is a factor governing barrier effect of roads?

(a) road edge features

(b) time of day and year

(c) species diversity in the surroundings

(d) all of these

5 Which of these is a factor governing barrier effect of roads?

(a) traffic intensity

(b) speed of vehicles

(c) driver sensitivity

(d) all of these

6 “the ability to produce a good at a lower opportunity cost than another producer” is a definition of

(a) real advantage

(b) monetary advantage

(c) comparative advantage

(d) opportunity advantage

7 Dust released from ships can help reveal ship movement because dust particles act as:

(a) Fuel particles

(b) Noise absorbers

(c) Nuclei for condensation

(d) Ocean-current markers

8 Which of the following is identified as a way in which roads disturb wildlife at night?

(a) They reduce wind movement

(b) They increase soil moisture

(c) They create silent zones

(d) They cause light pollution through headlamps

9 Which statement best describes why young male tigers or leopards may need to move away from their natal area?

(a) To avoid seasonal flooding

(b) To reduce conflict and avoid inbreeding

(c) To follow shipping routes

(d) To increase road density

10 Oxford can best be categorised as

(a) mining town

(b) garrison town

(c) educational town

(d) religious town